EXODUS

NEW LONDON
CENTRAL SCHOOL

DEDICATION

The class of 1962 proudly dedicates this book to Mr. Carl Hill, whose interest and help have guided us through our high school years.

ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY

To the Members of the Class of 1962:

As graduation brings a close to your public school years, it marks the start for each of you toward building a useful and rewarding life on the foundation you now possess.

You will be living in a rapid-moving, earth-shrinking, atomic-jet age. Past accomplishments should be dwarfed by new, intellectual achievements.

Each of you has both an opportunity and a responsibility to make your education and learning work toward solving the serious problems that complicate life today. There is no alternative.

Sincerely yours,

Gordon B. Flint
Superintendent of Schools

To the Members of the Class of 1962:

This is a time of mixed emotions--happiness and sadness--for you. Your four years at New London High School are nearly over and you will be going in many different directions soon. How well you have prepared yourselves for your new way of life, while you were in high school, will have much to do with your future success. If you are content to rest on your laurels, then we who have worked with you have failed, but if you are eager to continue to improve yourselves we can take pride in you, knowing that we have helped to instill in you the traits necessary for a full life.

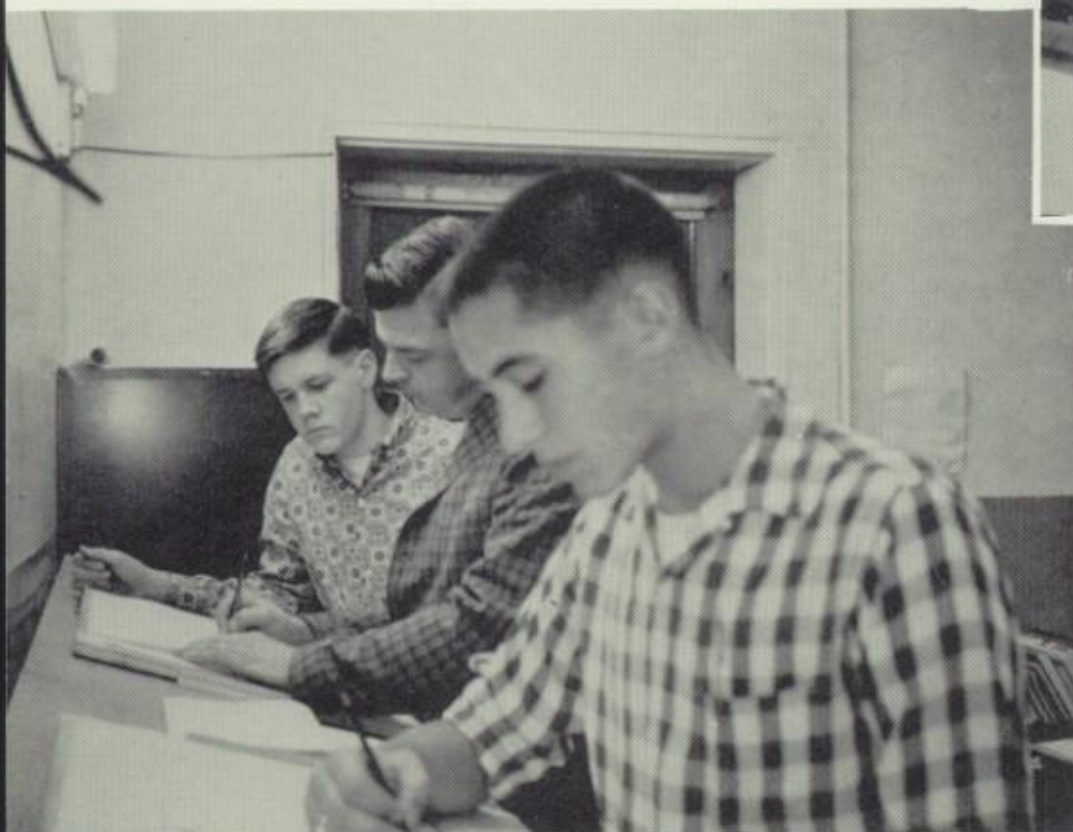

Your teachers join me in wishing you happiness and success in the years ahead.

Sincerely yours,

Robert J. Livingston

School Building Program

Left and below are before and after the construction of the gymnasium. The crane was brought in to install the new boilers and to raise the steel, gym-roof tresses.

With the New London area's growing population, it was necessary to erect a new school to accommodate a rapidly increasing student body. After considerable planning, the construction of a new $475,000 high school unit, designed by Alfred Granger Associates of Hanover, was contracted with Bean Construction Company of Keene.

The work was begun in the summer of 1961, and the new plant was planned for occupancy with the beginning of the 1962-3 school year. The pictures on this page show phases of the new construction.

The new school facilities represent not only the growth of our region but also the opportunity for an expanded program designed to meet the needs of students entering an era requiring mental skill and physical stamina. With people we will grow--with education we shall succeed!

Little Acorns

by Bettye Knapp

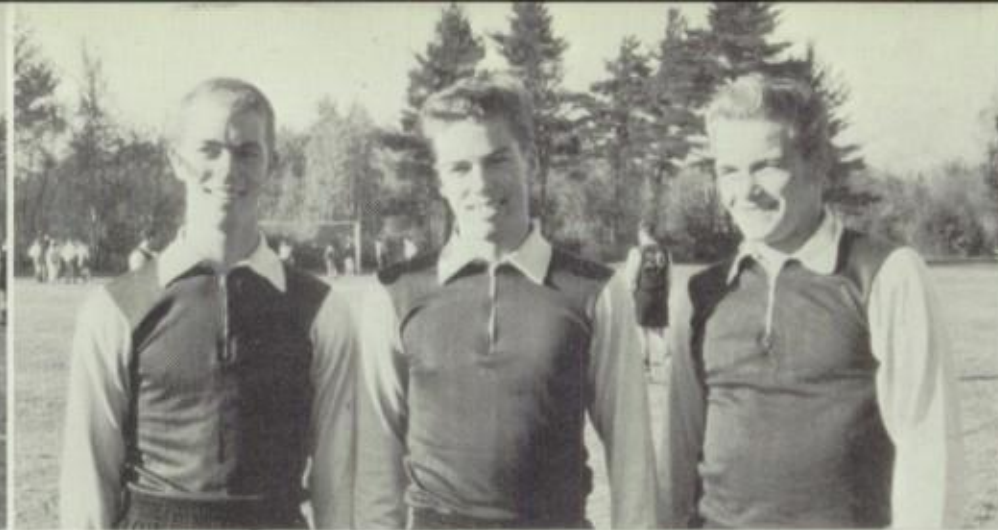

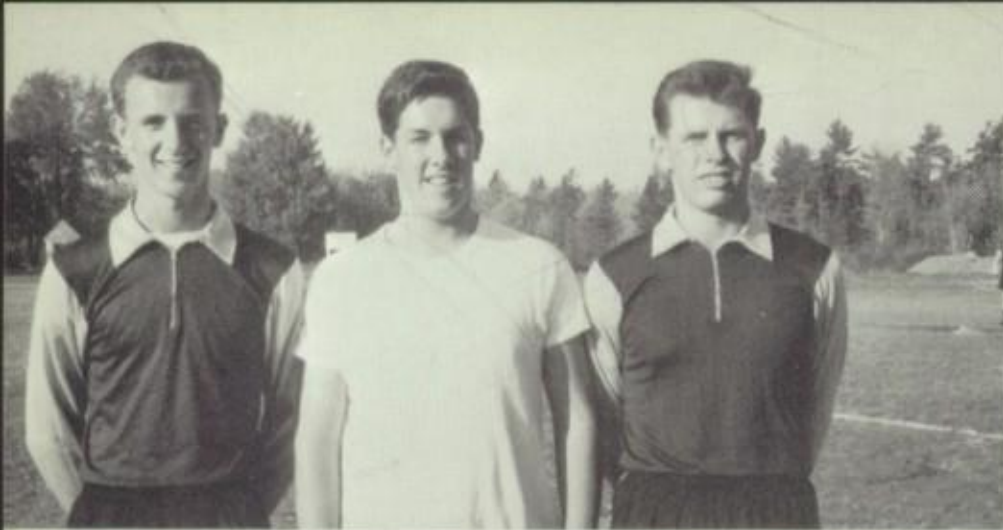

On November 29, 1961, LITTLE ACORNS, directed by Mr. Stohrer, was presented in the high school auditorium. Mr. Collins planned on ending his widower life by marrying an old acquaintance from Chicago. However, he did not count on the opposition he received from his children, who were apparently not so much interested in preventing his marrying a golddigger, as they said, as they were in maintaining the status quo, feeling the arrival of a new mother and sister would limit the privileges they were enjoying. It took the staunch personality and, literally, the heavy hand of Pandora Maureen O'Flaherty, the Irish cook, to reach the mind of the oldest and most spoiled, Milly, in a roundabout direction. The efforts of all the children to stop the marriage were foiled, including those of Lorna, who attempted to hypnotize Diana into hating the house, but succeeded only in putting herself into a trance.

Tremendous team effort and play characterized a highly successful season for New London, resulting in winning the Granite League and State championships. Paced by "Andy" Wheeler, Dave Harris, and Joe Hodges--Class S All Tourney Selections--New London won its first State Championship in the history of the school. Wheeler equaled the four-game tournament scoring record of 99 points with sensational play which won him state-wide acclaim.

Everyone realized at the outset of the basketball season that this was going to be a year of building for the girls' team. With many new members we knew our chances for high standing in the league were not great. However, we grew in sportsmanship and skill under the guidance of our new coach, Mr. Barrett. Next year, with a strong and determined team returning, we hope to have a winning season.

The New London Ski Team has truly come into its own as a four-event capability in state competition. The team has competed admirably against teams in all three divisions and proven a serious contender for the State Class B Championship.

This year's effort has been to achieve balance in four events, and although jumping still needs strong emphasis, overall results have been gratifying. Our boys have been considered by members of other ski teams throughout the state as worthy opponents. What more can be said?
